BEING THERE

WINE TASTING GALA

Thank you for supporting our 2020 Wine Tasting Gala! This year marks 25 years of the Tom Coughlin Jay Fund Foundation providing critical financial, emotional, and practical support to our Jacksonville families tackling childhood cancer, and we could not have done it without YOU!

Together, we've provided over $13 million to over 5,000 families. Together, we've been able to assist our local families by keeping a roof over their heads, food on the table, the lights on, and so much more. Together, we will continue to BE THERE for families facing the unthinkable when they need us the most.

We want to extend our sincere gratitude to Byron Hayes and the staff of Southern Glazer's Wine & Spirits, as well as all the wineries, restaurants, sponsors, and volunteers who made this event happen. Thank you.

Coretta Scott King said, "The greatness of a community is most accurately measured by the compassionate actions of its members." Our Jacksonville community is great, indeed. Thank you for embracing our mission with your compassion and your generosity. Tonight, we raise our glasses to you. You are our team.

25 YEARS OF HELPING FAMILIES

For 25 years, the Tom Coughlin Jay Fund has been helping families tackle childhood cancer from diagnosis to recovery and beyond.

DIAGNOSIS

Ziyanna

Age: 13

Diagnosed August 7, 2019 at age 13 with Rhabdomyosarcoma (soft tissue cancer)

FAST. That is how Carole said everything moved once her daughter Ziyanna was diagnosed with a soft tissue cancer that caused her eye to swell. After Ziyanna was diagnosed, the doctors immediately scheduled her for port placement, and her first chemotherapy took place just twelve days later. Carole says the swelling went down just as quickly as it came. Ziyanna's hair started falling out in early September. Ziyanna must complete 42 weeks of chemotherapy. So far her body has endured six weeks of radiation, six hospitalizations, and one trip to the emergency room.

Within two weeks of being connected to the Jay Fund, the family's rent and electricity had been paid. "The Jay Fund helped me tremendously. Like, in every way possible," Carole says. In addition to practical needs, she says the Jay Fund has offered great "distractions" from cancer for her family of eight:

- Arianna Grande concert
- Jay Fund's big tailgate party and Jaguar game
- Ziyanna participates in the Adolescent and Young Adult patient program and her siblings attend Sibling Support events

98% of parents said Jay Fund events provided a break from the stress of childhood cancer and brightened their child's day

ZERO families turned away

RECOVERY

Natalie

Age: 10

Diagnosed June 24, 2011
at age 2 with Burkitt's Lymphoma (form of non-Hodgkin's lymphoma)

Natalie spent over 70
days in a hospital room, 30 of which were spent in isolation. She couldn't have any visits from friends or family. Over the course of treatment, Natalie underwent four spinal taps, five rounds of chemotherapy, seven CAT scans, seven X-Rays, and was put under anesthesia 16 times.

Cancer is expensive, but Natalie's parents found a friend and the financial assistance they needed in the Tom Coughlin Jay Fund Foundation. "The Jay Fund allowed us to focus on helping Natalie and not worry about the bills, food, or gas for our cars," said Deborah. It also ensured Chris and Deborah's credit would remain intact, and they stayed safely in their home throughout it all.

Once a Jay Fund family, always a Jay Fund family. The Jay Fund remains a support system as Natalie and her family continue to attend events and bond with other families walking the same journey.

91% of parents said they gained support from other families
through attending Jay Fund events

BEYOND

Michelle Patient: Marlon (MJ)

Diagnosed January
2006 at age 5 • Passed
away September 13, 2008

When asked what she recalls about the day her son was diagnosed with cancer, Michelle McGriff is quick to respond: "I remember that day clearly.

He went to church with his father that Sunday morning. When he returned, he had red dots all over his body. I brought him to Wolfson Children's Hospital to get bloodwork done on New Year's Eve. We stayed in the hospital that night, and Marlon (MJ) was diagnosed with cancer the next morning."

When Marlon was originally diagnosed in 2006, the doctors gave him an 80 percent chance of survival. The family was optimistic. He had no side effects when he started treatment, and Marlon was very fortunate because his treatment plan was very manageable.

Unfortunately, things took a turn for the worse when Marlon relapsed during chemo and his treatment had to become more aggressive. After a fourth relapse, the doctors sadly couldn't do anything more.

"The Jay Fund meant support to my family and me," Michelle said. "It gave us our dignity; it relieved us of unnecessary stress that was not needed during these times. I am a very proud woman and I like to do things for myself. When I went to the Jay Fund, though, there were no questions. They just chose to be there." Today, Michelle honors her son's legacy as an ambassador for the foundation, offering her love and support to families going through the unthinkable.

The Tom Coughlin Jay Fund hosts an annual
REMEMBRANCE WEEKEND
that provides resources, support, and socialization with other families who understand the loss of a child to pediatric cancer

JAY FUND FAMILIES GIVING BACK

Coach Coughlin and Isabelle first met in April 2018 while he was visiting the pediatric oncology floor. When Coach came to the hospital bearing gifts, Isabelle wanted to give as well. Her gift to Coach was playing a song on her harp. He was extremely touched by her beautiful gesture. It was her way of giving back to the Jay Fund for the financial and emotional support her family received during her journey. Since then, Isabelle has finished treatment and is now officially in remission. She is a sophomore at Converse College in South Carolina, where she studies Harp and Voice.

Isabelle was diagnosed with Acute Myeloid Leukemia in January 2018 at the age of 18. Isabelle's dad, Steven, says, "She went to a minute clinic because she was not feeling well. We ended up in the emergency room because her fever was increasing, and the next thing we know, we were getting a cancer diagnosis. Isabelle took it like a champ. She was in the hospital for roughly 5 months for treatment with a week off in between."

"It is really a good feeling to know that I can give something back because I am not someone who goes out and organizes events," says Isabelle. We are proud to share Isabelle's talent with you tonight. She will be playing her harp in the Silver Lounge.

IN HONOR OF JAY

JAY MCGILLIS

The Tom Coughlin Jay Fund Foundation is named for Jay McGillis, one of Coach Coughlin's players from his time at Boston College. McGillis was a strong side safety at BC in the early 1990s and the red-headed kid impressed Coach Coughlin with his work ethic and intense play.

It was during a game against Syracuse that McGillis felt something was wrong. What was thought to be a case of mononucleosis would end up being diagnosed as Leukemia. Jay died eight months later on July 3, 1992. He was 22.

"The shocking news went through our entire team. Jay became a very, very sick young man, and the disease was ravaging. We had an opportunity to see the courage and devotion of the McGillis family. We watched and observed, seeing everyone drop what they were doing to care for Jay. Both Judy and I knew if we ever had a chance to give back, it would be in the spirit and in the name of Jay McGillis."

Following Jay's funeral, Coughlin continued to stay in touch with the McGillis family. When the Jacksonville Jaguars hired Coughlin in 1995, he decided he was in a position to make good on his promise. He picked up the phone and dialed Jay's mother, Pat McGillis. "I was just elated when he called," Mrs. McGillis said. "He said, 'I'm going to establish the Jay Fund in memory of Jay. And we're going to help children with cancer. We're going to do all we can to be there for these families.'"

TASTING TIPS

Enjoying wine is an experience full of tastes, smells, and sights. Remember to keep it simple and keep it fun. According to many wine aficionados, red blends are becoming popular this year as the wine maker has the ability to blend different grapes to exemplify personal style and the characteristics of the region in which the wine is produced. Don't be afraid to experiment, pairing your wine with a variety of cuisines from all cultures and styles—the possible combinations are endless. And remember, have faith in your own senses and enjoy!

SIGHT

Study the color and clarity of the wine. Wine should be clear and not cloudy. As wine ages it changes color.

SWIRL

This allows oxygen into the wine, which releases the components that make up the wine. Swirling also forces the aroma of the wine up and out of the glass.

SMELL

This is the most important step. Immediately after swirling, get your nose in the glass and smell the wine.

SIP

After swirling again, take a sip. The idea is to hold the wine in your mouth, swish it around, chew it. You want the wine to come in contact with all the flavor receptors on your tongue and sides of your mouth. Some people draw air into their mouths over the wine, further aerating the wine and unlocking flavors.

SAVOR

Identify and describe what you are tasting. Different areas of your tongue and mouth are designed to perceive 4 tastes: salty, sweet, sour, and bitter. But with wine, we only deal with the latter three.

SPIT / SWALLOW

Alcohol dulls the senses, and after tasting a number of wines without spitting, they all start to taste the same. The last impression of a wine is its aftertaste or finish.
